

DEGREE PARTNERSHIP

PROGRAM (DPP)

The Degree Partnership Program (DPP) allows undergraduate students to be jointly admitted and enrolled at Oregon State University (OSU) and any of our community college partner schools. DPP is open to all undergraduate students pursuing their Bachelor's Degree and Post Baccalaureate students for meeting prerequisite requirements. DPP is not open to Non-Degree, Certificate Only Programs, and Graduate Degree Seeking Students.

Adding DPP (New & Current OSU Students)

- Scan the QR code below or go to beav.es/iAS for current instructions on adding DPP to your OSU account:

- Adding DPP to your account may take 2-3 weeks. If it has been longer than that, please visit beav.es/TDh to contact an OSU transfer advisor.

DPP will be added to your account at OSU and will be processed by the community college within 14 business days. Reach out to your partner school for further assistance in your next steps.

Financial Aid, Scholarships, and The Degree Partnership Program

- Once admitted into DPP, students have up to 10 terms before having to take an OSU course. Each term, students have a choice of taking classes at their partner school only, at OSU only, or both OSU and the partner school.
- Include both OSU and the partner school on your FAFSA to keep financial aid options open. Once an award letter is created at both schools, you can make an informed decision on selecting a home school.
- OSU funded grants or scholarships have specific requirements including designating OSU as the home school and enrolling in at least 6 OSU credits each term for the award to disburse.

DPP Billing Information

For more information about billing and financial aid view the financial aid video: tinyurl.com/DPPFinAid

- Scholarships from your partner school may have specific requirements; know the policies around the scholarships.
- After enrolling in DPP, students must declare their "financial aid home school". The Degree Partnership Financial Aid Home School Declaration will appear on the home tab in your financial aid self-service portal online in the Student Requirements section.

Home School Specifics

OSU and each community college require minimum credit hours to process financial aid at the home school. Below is a list of the credit hour requirements. A home school is the school that will administer your financial aid and/or scholarships. All DPP students must have a home school. Find your home school below, and you will find the minimum amount of credits that you must be enrolled in at that school:

1 Credit Hour

- Oregon State University
- Lane
- Linn-Benton
- Southwestern Oregon
- Umpqua

6 Credit Hours

- Blue Mountain
- Central Oregon
- Chemeketa
- Clackamas
- Clatsop
- Columbia Gorge
- Klamath
- Mt. Hood
- Oregon Coast
- Portland
- Rogue
- Tillamook Bay
- Treasure Valley
- Hawai'i (Big Island)
- Kapi'olani
- Maui College

- OSU attendance only: OSU must be the home school.
- Classes at both OSU and partner school: may choose a home school. Each home school may have different aid packages & rules around financial aid and scholarships for DPP students, so students should plan ahead and work with a home school financial aid advisor to understand their expectations.
- If a DPP student takes credits at their partner school that are transferable to their home school, the partner school credits can be counted towards their overall financial aid credit load.
- To change your home school, send an email from your OSU email to: DPP@oregonstate.edu with your name, ID number, and your request to change your home school, including the specific term.

Additional DPP Information

- DPP students can add an additional partner school by completing a new application for each school.
- DPP is transcript transparent (meaning it does not appear on your transcript). There is no need to remove DPP from your account once you are done taking classes at your partner school.
